Hi Sherri and Len,

I just read most of your blog about Paul Sulla. Join the club. He orchestrated and presided over a coup here on Kaua`i in 1995-1996 to basically steal our brand new community radio station, which is now KKCR. He defended and sanctioned all kinds of illegal things some people were doing to pull off the move. As one of the original founders, I was advised by a Prosecuting Attorney to call the police and start legal proceedings, which would involve U.S. Postal and bank fraud charges, etc. Our FCC lawyer in Wash., D.C. advised that if we called the cops, the FCC probably wouldn't give us our broadcast license because of all the infighting.

So, we went through hell for years trying to change the takeover Board and to restore "normalcy". Without going through all the ugly details, I think we're doing pretty well now, 20 years later. But, Paul Sulla and the perpetrators caused an immense amount of pain and suffering and wasted energy on Kaua`i, to say nothing of the trouble he got in with his drug cult fiasco. In my opinion, he should be in prison for a long time, for his evil doings over the years. He is a truly dark figure.

My Wife and I hope you have a successful outcome in your battles with Sulla. We wish you the very best. But, at this point in our lives, we don't want to get involved in another ugly mess with him, or anything to do with him. It's not because of fear that we choose to not get involved in your situation. The main reasons are: #1 We want to maintain our Peace of Mind, as much as possible. Life is plenty full enough of challenges and obstacles for us to deal with here. #2 We don't believe that Sulla will get what he deserves from any legal actions.

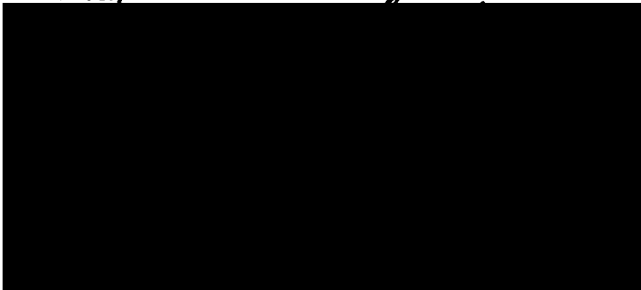

Paul Sulla is the kind of person who will weasel and slime his way out of any worldly punishment. He's made a career out of working the dark side to his advantage, and we don't want to invite that energy into our lives again. In the end, your integrity will prevail, and there is no doubt in us that he will pay dearly for his actions. The law of Karma is the only law that will judge him fairly, even if you defeat him in the courts.

Our radio station is doing pretty well, now that we have worked hard to purge Sulla's poisonous vibes from the Kekahu Foundation, our governing entity. There are still a few remnants of Sulla's methodology in the way our organization functions, but new blood is always coming in and the times are way different now than when he was weaving his web here.

In addition to the radio station takeover coup Sulla presided over, he held some ayahuasca ceremonies here on our property in Kapa`a, in the home of a Family member. When we realized what he was doing, we put an end to it immediately. That was quite a few years ago, and the air seems a little clearer ever since.

We are both in our 70's and are very busy in our lives, and we just don't want to dive into a bottomless pit of negative energy. We're dealing with many challenges here and are up to our eyeballs in what it takes to survive on Kaua`i and to keep our Family together. I hope this statement helps you to gain a just outcome in your unfortunate situation.

Aloha,
