

Puna Mango Acres Sherri Kane WOW! but no surprise, I lived next door to this scam artist's "church" in Ahaloa. Had business dealings with him. He tried to burn me, lol sorry, no work on me I didn't go for his line of BS, I did do his "Spiritual Awakening", Ayahuasca he was charging every one a $100. a pop for. Not me, he owes me, I worked on his funky solar stuff and set up for some shindig he had with the visiting shaman from Brazil. De Ja Vu JUST saw his stupid ass in the courthouse filing papers, he didn't remember my name but extended his hand to shake mine not sure if I was friend or foe. I laughed at him, he's a sorry excuse for a human being.

I remember the day he smacked his son, his girlfriend Shanti was there and his wife was coming from Kauai. I actually deprogrammed one of his 'temple maidens' Lalita. He 'let' people build on "his church" 60 acre property up there but they had no ownership. Google earthing the property now it looks like a subdivision, so he's conned a lot of people out of the money I'm sure. The manipulation they do during the event didn't go jack for me but then I have had experience with the likes of this con man. I made them this 6 pointed star table/altar and he didn't want to pay me, said it sold a donation to the church. lol Yea fine but I'm not a believer. No money no table, I took it back and stuck it in the Bamboo Gallery. He had a ROLL of 100's when I asked for mine. He's a cheap bastard on top of all else of his scams. HE NEEDS to be prosecuted.
